

English learning can become a tedious process, but it all comes down to whether or not you can converse in the language. Understand that going through the learning process haphazardly will get you nowhere; rather the perfect method of studying English is having it all chalked out (planned out). Here's a secret guide to help you improve your knowledge of the English language, also, to enhance your spoken skills quickly.

Tips to improve your English fluency

1. Know your grasping power - It is important that you analyze and understand which category you fall into. This means that you should know if you find it easier to understand or is it easier for you to mug up. Whether you like learning English online or if a friend is sufficient for one to grasp the language; if you're an amateur speaker or an advanced one. All of the questions mentioned above will impact your ability to learn and hence they're vital.

2. Zero down to a learning approach - Having answered all of your queries, it's essential that you choose a learning strategy. For starters, you will need to get into the habit of speaking in English more often than

3 Effective Tricks to Learning English

---

possible. You also need to try and extract that form of studying helps you learn better. Ask yourself the following questions, and You'll find the apt learning approach for you in the answers:

" Do you study better when alone?

" Do you prefer taking an English speaking course instead of self-study?

" How much time do you must dedicate to the speech?

" How serious are you about learning and acquiring the language?

3. Focus on mastering speaking skills - Planning is a great step towards studying anything. Therefore, it's vital that you design a plan around which you will work. Some of the crucial tips to keep in mind include being vocal and loud, no matter if you're reading, writing or speaking. To improve English speaking, you should consider getting proactive by picking a topic and speaking about it for no less than one minute per day. If you have enrolled in an English speaking course online, you could reap the benefits and use online exercises to help better your learning abilities.

Tips:

1. Keep a dictionary handy for as and when you need one.
2. Get pronunciation right, no matter how many times you need to repeat a single word.
3. Learn a minimum of three new words a day to develop and increase your vocabulary.

Lastly, in case you want to learn English speaking fluently, you also need to be worried about reading and writing. You could also consider writing short texts or sites or even comment on your buddies Facebook profiles. Also, leave some scope for error, as you learn best from your errors. Whatever you do, ensure to keep it simple and not give up at any point. Keep an end goal and keep working towards it.

Louise Morgan - EnglishLD.com